

Lawyers and Judges Can't do enough for Murderer Morales

Convicted murderer Michael Morales who raped and murdered a Lodi teenage girl named Terri Winchell has the legal system falling all over itself to protect his life. The entire press didn't have the story correct yesterday when they said that problems were ironed out and the scum would be put to death one minute and then a licensed physician was needed, and the rightful sentencing was blocked again. We await a hearing on the constitutionality of California's lethal injection process in early May. Why does that mean the legal process must stop? Change the law... don't block the system! A Lodi Republican and Torrance Democrat are sponsoring a bill that would take physicians out of the death chamber. Why????? Five years ago California passed a law keeping physicians out of the executing process. Now, since lawyers obviously can't read the intent of that law, since it doesn't suit their purposes, we have to be put onto the squirrel cage of introducing new legislation. I must be a rotten human being, wanting these animals to pay the price for their indiscretions. And I'm proud of it. Democrat Joe Nation wants a two-year moratorium on executions because of the medical professions concerns over taking part in executions. It's because doctors save people, and the courts punish people. What's your reason for going against the law, Democrat Joe Nation?? Bringing the medical profession into the courtroom just took place within the last few days or weeks. Find the person responsible for doing that, and you'll find the person who believes the law should be disregarded. Who was it that did this? It shows how the law is killing America, little by little. Posted on Feb 22, 2006

This is how the law is suffocating America

Michael Morales was convicted of raping and killing 17-year-old Lodi teen Teri Winchell and his execution is set for 7:30 p.m. this time there will be no need to have anesthesiologist on hand for the execution. The state will give Morales a dose of sodium pentothal instead of the three drug cocktail that's been used for the last ten years. The change would drag the death process out to between 30-to-45 minutes instead of the old drug cocktail's eight-to-ten minutes. That's cool. There's still a prayer that he'll suffer and we just won't know it. Defense attorneys will waste our courts time and our dollars again today, going before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. What better place to find someone to go along with you as you try to save a miserable excuse of a man that broke what should be the most precious rule you have going for you as a society. Unless, of course you're one of those who think we should become more tolerant of killing each other. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Columbus Allen is now denying any involvement

Columbus Allen of Stockton is now denying any involvement in the killing of CHP Officer Earl Scott. By the way, he's the one who turned himself into the cops the same day as the shooting. Stanislaus County authorities believe Allen was the shooter. He is being held without bail at the Stanislaus County Jail and is scheduled for arraignment tomorrow. Officer Earl Scott's funeral is scheduled Thursday at the First Baptist Church in Modesto at 2 p.m. Posted on Feb 21, 2006 by

Pataki and Ehrlich are threatening legal action

New York Governor George Pataki and Maryland Governor Robert Ehrlich are threatening legal action over the proposed management of six American ports by an Arab company. They're working to have the contract voided, and Baltimore Mayor Martin O'Malley says he'll rally other mayors to oppose the plan. This is a strange security enlightenment that's going on here. There's evidence these contracts with the likes of the UAE, have been part of our ongoing security efforts for awhile, with the scrutiny of our own security forces, but when we're on the heels of radical Islamics, maybe we should stand down for awhile and take our ports totally under local authority. It is the safe way to face this new discovery, and that would end it wouldn't it. And if you think the way to insure our safety is to put the trust of our safety into the hands of others, you're nuts too. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

An increasing number of cases solved with DNA Evidence

The Sac County crime lab has seen major increases in the number of cases it's been able to solve with DNA evidence, and that's put a strain on the lab's resources. The crime lab receives 20-thousand offender DNA samples each month, and the difference in cases solved over the last six years has been dramatic. As the DNA database continues to grow, there's more work to be done than there are people to do it. That's why you have to watch the budget needs of your law enforcement agencies. These are the peripheral jobs that eat up a lot of that money, and give you the most results. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Stockton Cops cracking down on illegal street racing

Stockton cops started cracking down on illegal street racing. Did you catch that, illegal street racing! Like there's any other kind of street racing. More than 20 busts yesterday for fast and furious violations like riding too low & illegal exhausts. Those violations gave officers the authority to look under the hood for alterations that would indicate the vehicles for racing use.. They also checked for stolen parts, and will conduct similar crackdowns in other areas of Stockton in the future. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Spike Lee says "African-American" experience being belittled.

Spike Lee says "the African-American" experience is being belittled in movies and TV as a culture of pimps, drug dealers and "gangstas." He spoke before a predominantly black audience in Southern California and laments ghettos and gangsta rap don't tell the story when it comes to black life in America. Spike Lee says African-Americans being denied the chance to do so, and it means audiences are seeing a distorted picture of how blacks survive in this country. Well, Spike who the hell is making those gangsta rap videos. Are they not black people??? Posted on Feb 21, 2006 by

Guardian Angels leading an effort to prevent growing Violence

They are taking back the streets in Newburgh NY. The Guardian Angels are leading an effort to prevent growing violence and other problems plaguing the city. Guardian Angels founder Curtis Sliwa says the well-known organization will establish street patrols and provide anti-violence programs for the public school system. This is the real news. This once again people who believe in law and order, and just common responsibility. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Racketeering re-trial of John "Junior" Gotti

Opening statements this morning in the racketeering re-trial of John "Junior" Gotti. A jury was recently deadlocked on his more serious racketeering charges and is facing the courts for plotting the 1992 kidnapping and shooting of radio talk show host and Guardian Angels founder Curtis Sliwa. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Did he or didn't he? Nobody is saying anything, but word is spreading that Miami Dolphins running back Ricky Williams has failed his fourth NFL drug test. Are you pro sports freaks stupid or what?

Posted on Feb 21, 2006

NTSB investigators have ruled out mechanical problems as the cause of a plane crash that killed 3 in Roseville. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

I love the left column headline in the Bee Scene section this morning. 2 local reasons to watch Idol tonight. I can just imagine what the story says... 1.) You're the victim of a paralyzing accident that has you bedridden & the hospital TV is stuck on that channel... 2.) You're the victim of a paralyzing accident that has you bedridden & the hospital TV is stuck on that channel. Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Altamont Commuter Express riders will soon have more options. According to the "Stockton Record," ACE will be adding a midday route to its existing three daily round-trip commuter runs to the Bay Area. The new train will begin leaving Stockton at 9:30 a.m. on April 24th. ACE officials hope the new route, which replaces the current Amtrak bus service, will help alleviate traffic congestion when work crews begin widening Interstate 205 in the Spring.

Posted on Feb 21, 2006

The Northwest Federation of Community Organizations says we must try harder to make it easier for illegal immigrants to get involved in the community. Their report tells of red tape, discrimination and civil rights violations as illegals try to find work and get started. The Federation for American Immigration Reform, which works to stop illegal immigration calls the report "laughable." That makes two of us!

Posted on Feb 21, 200

The execution of convicted killer Michael Morales Delayed

The execution of convicted killer Michael Morales, who raped and killed teenager Terri Winchell, was delayed. It's re-scheduled for 7:30 tonight. The anesthesiologist concern over their ethics oath has led to a more potent dose of sodium pentothal, and it's a good day to see justice done. I'm actually looking forward to the defense lawyers sucking up to the ninth circuit court of appeals today in honor of their chosen one, the animal found guilty of murder by a jury of his peers. If things work out well, it might turn out to be more painful to him in the long run. He WAS just to be put death. Now I at least get a little satisfaction out of him being told, time to die... no just kidding, another delay... hey Michael, time to die, no just kidding, there's been a delay. Maybe we've struck on a better method of punishment.

Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Williamson County Tennessee schools voted last night to keep the novel "To Kill A Mockingbird" on its schools' book shelves. ONE parent voiced concern, saying the novel contained racial slurs and should be taken out of the system. And this, my friends, is a perfect example of how 1 person is allowed to disrupt an entire school board and the educational process. Knowing when to shut up will soon become as important as learning how to voice your sometimes stupid personal desires.

Posted on Feb 21, 2006

Ramona Skattebo is in the news. If the name sounds familiar, it's because her husband was the Sacramento man killed in a street race last week. Steve Skattebo was killed when he lost control of his car and crashed into a tree. After the crash, police arrested Jason Golson and booked him on suspicion of second-degree murder. Although she is still awaitng the police report she's jumping on the second degree murder charge for Jason Golson, the driver of the other car in the race arrested after he left the scene. She says she thinks the charge is too harsh. Appreciate your thoughts and am sorry for your loss Mrs. Skattebo, but it's not your decision.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

Steve Kubby the marijuana advocate that fled the country after being convicted on drug charges said initially that if he couldn't have his pot in jail, he'd die. He's changed his mind according to Channel 10, he now says he has dropped his request to use weed behind bars. Kubby was deported from Canada where he's been serving his jail sentence. Kubby is taking the drug Marinol to take care of his problem symptoms, and still will fight for a house arrest alternative.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

Sexual assaults involving men posing as law enforcement officers has Sac cops asking for your help. The assault of an Elk Grove woman along Interstate 5, south of Meadowview Road has them searching for a man appearing to be law enforcement and driving cars resembling law enforcement vehicles with light bars. One incident took place february 12th, yesterdays assault occurred about 2:30 a.m., when a 20-year-old Elk Grove woman was stopped and assaulted at the scene. In the Feb. 12 incident, a 28-year-old woman was stopped at West Stockton and Laguna boulevards. She was directed to follow the man to a location at Wooded Brook Drive and West Stockton Boulevard, where she was assaulted. Anyone with information about either incident may call Crime Alert at (916) 443-HELP.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

A 24-year-old Sacramento man died Sunday from gunshot wounds he received in a dispute over an illegal rooster fight over the weekend, authorities reported. Wang Lee of Sacramento died at about 6:30 a.m., two days after doctors at Sutter General Hospital declared him clinically brain dead, according to the Sacramento Police Department.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

Osama Bin Laden Vowed Never to be captured Alive ..

Which is fine with me.

Two more failed appeals to keep 46 yr. old Michael Morales alive. The fiend who raped and murdered a 17 yr old lodi girl will fry at midnight if all goes well. A federal appeals court in San Francisco Sunday denied two separate motions. Yes!

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

30 yr. old Columbus Allen , was arrested for shooting CHP officer Earl Scott in the face last week, after turning himself in at Stockton police headquarters just hours after the shooting. The traffic stop near Salida, just northwest of Modesto claimed him as the fifth CHP officer to die while on duty since last September. Allen has been arrested for robbery and assaults against officers in the past, and "does have an extensive criminal background." He's being held without bail in Stanislaus County jail and will be arraigned on first-degree murder charges Wednesday. Cops also questioned a witness in the case late Friday, arresting him as he was about to board a flight at Oakland International Airport. That witness posted bail on weapon and drug charges brought against him Saturday morning.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

The purchase last week of London-based Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Co., by Dubai Ports World, a state-owned business in the United Arab Emirates means that ports in the United States will be watched over by a company based in the place which was a transfer point for smuggled nuclear components sent to Iran, North Korea and Libya, and an operational and financial base for the hijackers who carried out the attacks of Sept. 11, 2001. Homeland Security Secretary Michael Chertoff defended the U.S. security review of DP World in various television interviews Sunday. A Miami company, Continental Stevedoring & Terminals Inc., has filed suit in a Florida court challenging the deal. A subsidiary of Eller & Company Inc., Continental maintains it will become an "involuntary partner" with Dubai's government under the sale, so we'll get some action out of this.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

Former President Clinton said Sunday the Bush administration's "enormous penchant for secrecy" sparked the strong reaction to Vice President Dick Cheney's shooting mishap. At least Bush's attempt to be secret has the country's safety at the heart of it. He could have just lied, couldn't he Mr. Clinton?

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

is dole a sponsor? Well this weekend I took the time to study the carton in which my orange peach and mango juice came in. A blend of 6 juices from concentrate. With other natural flavors. What other natural flavors would be required to provide a product called orange peach and mango juice?

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

he NAACP wants the Department of Justice to postpone upcoming elections in New Orleans until displaced voters have been located. Well, since the citizens no longer have any responsibility of their own in this country, why don't you just vote for them too NAACP?

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

One of the trigger topics yesterday on some of the Sunday morning talk circuit was the government surveillance program. Hey, I don't want any more laws. The best suggestion ever made by someone was... you must get rid of a worthless law that's still on the books if you want to introduce a new one. My reading suggestion this week is a book titled "The Death of Common Sense." A customer brought a copy to me at the shop and it's great... subtitle for the Death of Common Sense is How Law is Suffocating America... Buy it.

Posted on Feb 20, 2006

A computer virus that targets the Mac OS X operating system has been found. The worm sends itself to available contacts on the infected users' buddy list in a file called "latestpics.tgz." It is believed to be the first such virus aimed specifically at Apple Computer's Mac platform and that's cool, cause I really thought that apple was behind most viruses just to screw the Microsoft market.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

New tests by the Sac Flood Control Agency show under-seepage beneath the levies protecting the Natomas basin, and that eleven miles of levees need to be raised one to two feet. Costs up to one quarter billion. Development in Natomas has been going on under a hundred-year flood protection belief, and as I grew up here in the Sacramento Valley, I can still remember friends in the rice business chuckling when they saw the natomas development begin. They might have been smarter ole farmers than you think.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

Lindhurst High's football stadium gonna get a name change in late principal's Dean Miller's honor. He died last week when his car went down a ravine in Yuba County, and a scholarship fund with his name is being established. More than 2,000 attendees at this man's funeral, who was described and remembered as a thoughtful principal helped and listened to the kids. That's more than enough to have in your epitaph.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

Cops answered a robbery call to the Four Oaks Market on Grand Avenue in Del Paso Heights to find two of four masked gunmen sitting in their getaway car. The neighbor who found their car blocking his driveway took the keys out of it and called the cops not knowing that these Einsteins were hitting the neighbor market. Cops caught all four in time. They're 20 yr olds Benoise Davis Wade, Mike Stone, Johanas Clinton Calhoun, and 19 yr old Kevin Ford. I hope I got all the middle names and initials properly cause these 4 need to have as many people as possible know how stupid they are. Don't tell me the herd doesn't need thinnin'. Oh, and thanks neighbor, that's called being proactive.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

The United States has rejected a UN call to shut down the Guantanamo Bay prison where terrorists and those connected are being held. And, that's all you need to know about that story.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

Attorney General Bill Lockyear is suing the nation's largest tax preparer claiming H&R Block engages in a policy of deception when it comes to the company's refund-anticipation loans. Can you say "deceptive debt-collection practices."

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

The Canyon Country man BOSS Radio told you about yesterday has been captured. He's the convicted sex offending scumbag that beat and tried to rape his 12-year-old niece. The girl ended up with a shattered eye socket and broken nose in the attack. Castration might be pacifying to me if it took place at the neck.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

Militant Islamic Militias have infiltrated Iraq's security forces and the U.S. military knows about it and now will continue to train the country's soldiers and police more aware of the consequences of democratizing a country with a society of normal people mixed in with a maniacal religious faction. Major General Rick Lynch, says nearly half a dozen Iraqi policemen have been arrested in the discovery.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

News Ten tells BOSS Radio a burglary spree in the Greenhaven area is continuing, and Sac cops have already popped a dozen possibles, but think there are more tryin to perpetuate the 14 burglaries in the pocket area. The targets seem to all be unalarmed homes.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

California Highway Patrol officers are looking for a car possibly involved in the deadly overnight shooting of a CHP officer. The killing happened on Highway-99 near Modesto and appears to have been related to a traffic stop. The CHP says the officer was standing by a car reading the registration card, and was shot in the face. Authorities are searching for a dark green 1990 Nissan Maxima, California license plate number 5-K-W-A-3-3-5. No names have been released. Currently, northbound Highway-99 between Highway-219 in Salida and Hammett Road in Ripon is shut down as officers collect evidence at the crime scene.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

There have been four attacks just this month on women at American River College. This week, a woman was knocked unconscious in a campus bathroom. Women walking alone have been the most frequent targets, stop doing it, and cops say each incident has been more violent than the one before. American River College is beefing up security.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

Here's another one of these ^&&# faxes I get all the time on my fax machine using up my paper and my telephone line time. This one from stock market watch, and they come from vacation hawkers, health insurance and on and on and what's worse they treat you like you're the dummy. Really! When I read something like "if you received this fax in error" it truly sends me through the roof. Hey you disrespectful pieces of 's' I didn't receive anything in error, you SENT it in error. Stop it, just stop it!

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

The family of missing Alabama teen Natalee Holloway is suing Joran and Paul Van der Sloot in the her disappearance in Aruba last May. The Van der Sloots were both served while visiting New York City. Natalee's family claims she was the victim of sexual assault at the hands of Joran and that his father took part in a cover up. The Aruba investigation sucked, and that my friends is the way to show proper use of the legal system. Take em down civilly when the establishment disappoints you.

Posted on Feb 17, 2006

The judge has ruled against singer Michael Jackson in a child custody battle involving two of his children. Jackson's ex-wife Debbie Rowe, who is the mother, convinced a court to overturn her earlier agreement in which she signed away parental rights of the children. The pop star has a third child with an unnamed woman, or something.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

New York Senator Hillary Clinton's wax look-a-like will take its place today at Madame Tussauds midtown wax museum. The life sized figure of Hillary is said to exude the same warmth, caring, and intellectual personality of the real Hillary Clinton.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

The search is on for a Canyon Country man accused of beating and trying to rape his 12-year-old niece. Thirty-eight-year-old Anthony Pierce is a convicted sex offender. Authorities are offering a ten-thousand reward for information leading to his capture. They SHOULD provide a handgun, bullets AND the ten grand.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Here's how sick America is, and it needs a transfusion! A proposal encouraging immigrants to learn English was squashed even before a legislative panel in Rockland County discussed the idea. Lawmakers and county residents are angry with legislator Gerold Bierker for urging all non-English speaking residents to learn it. Some legislators say the intent of the resolution drafted by Bierker is racist and inappropriate. Other say the idea was brave. Either way Bierker says he will reintroduce the resolution again, and thank God for Gerold Bierker. you don't understand, but this dinosaur is willing to stake his reputation on it. You let the english language take a back seat to anyone in America and you're on your way top losing what it stands for.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Two armed men struck the Sacramento Credit Union on East Stockton Boulevard, a tip led them to the suspect's car and then Sac County and CHP chased down the three criminals on Interstate-80 at the Yolo causeway yesterday. The vehicle lost a wheel during the pursuit and the 3 got busted. They got to cry on bubba's shoulder last night. Wonder how he eased their worries, a little TLC maybe?

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Vice President Cheney took the blame and broke his silence on the weekend shooting accident that left a fellow hunter hospitalized. That must have really pissed off the press . C'mon where are the crimnal negligence chrarges Today papers and CNN? Waiting until tomorrow?

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Headline..... Washington under pressure to close the prison at Guantanamo Bay. BY WHO? The UN! Detention without charges, fair trial violations, and yes, the forced feeding of hunger strikers "must be assessed as amounting to torture." UN Human Rights Commissioner Louise Arbour told the BBC she sees no alternative to closing the prison. Hey Louise... Tough! Go put another murdering dictator into place around your UN round table and then spit on the United States.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Stanislaus County school administrators don't understand the low grades of nearly half the student population. News 10 tells BOSS Radio 40-percent of students at Riverbank High can't participate in sports and other extracurricular activities because they have such poor grades. Why are so many students doing so bad when standardized test scores are up 78-percent in the last two years. Students say many kids aren't motivated. Really? Not motivated. Well I guess when you're taught that everything will be given to you even if you DON'T try, this is what you get... Yeah, yeah, YOU worry about the self esteem thing.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Foothill and Highlands high school freshman, JV and Varsity basketball gametimes were changed from the evening to the afternoon because of violent incidents outside past games between the two schools. Some students had to miss class to play and many parents weren't happy by the schedule switch. So sorry parents! Maybe you unhappy parents ought to find out who the parents of the trouble making little delinquents at the school are, and ask police why they aren't in jail along with their worthless ill raised punks. School folks haven't said if the change will be permanent.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Michael Morales, the man who raped and murdered an 18 yr old Lodi girl, will be snuffed next Tuesday. The headline you'll read all over the news today, "Corrections officials comply death penalty changes." The headline should read, "Attorney General Bill Lockyer says, 'you want an Anesthesiologist in the room when he dies?' I'll put two anesthesiologists in the room, now snuff the worthless bastard! NO, Bill didn't say that part, I said that part!

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Yesterday a pit bull ravaged a man walking past a home on Lemon Tree Avenue when it got out of it's yard. The man was treated for severe head and upper body injuries. The dog is being held pending a dangerous dog hearing. Who are the derelict owners of this viscious piece of 's'? and why aren't we hearing about a hearing with their name attached. I'm not into this dangerous animal hearing, I want a hearing for the irresponsible owners of this dog that should be dead as we speak!

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

The stabbing murder of a 19-year-old and a 15-year-old in Sacramento last Monday finally has a perp in the killing. A 17 yr. old was taken in, and two 16-year-old boys were also popped Biggs, up in Butte County. The stabbing took place outside an apartment complex on Bellinger Court. Cops think all 3 were involved in the incident, and put it together with an ongoing neighborhood dispute. NEIGHBORHOOD DISPUTE????? How about gang banger freak show, isn't that a better description.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

I certainly understand when animal cruelty people say all this pit bull attention isn't fair, but here again a folsom kid attacked by the family dog, a pit mix. The eleven-month-old boy was playing with the dog and got bitten on the ear and head, but in this case the dog let go. The dog's on a ten day quarantine, but should be attending it's own funeral right now.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

Bounty hunters located someone that flaked on a murder warrant in West Sac last night. The killer shot at his hunters and wouldn't come out, and that's when the SWAT Team was called in. 54 yr. old Roberto Barron had been staying at the Pacific Motel on West Capitol Avenue for a couple of weeks before the Sacramento Back Track Fugitive Recovery located him. The murder charge came about when Barron beat a man in the head with a horseshoe in a gang banger prison riot during which Barron beat a man in the head with a horseshoe. They finally pulled the moron out around midnight and took him into custody.

Posted on Feb 16, 2006

A dozen students from Dixon High suspended from playing in school athletics. Pics of the underage dufuses got posted on he Internet showing them boozing it up. "Y-H-T-N-dot-net" (Your Home Town News) reports the students include basketball, baseball, track and field, soccer and softball players. Parents are complaining the pictures were taken before the athletic season, which would not be in violation of school rules. That's right parents, take the high ground! What's happening to my country?

Posted on Feb 15, 2006

Sac Sheriff's say the deaths of a 52-year-old man and a 75-year-old woman in their Roosevelt Avenue, South Sacramento home was a double homicide. BOSS radio told you about the discovery of the bodies Monday. Both had died of head trauma. Now detectives have identified the use and possible sales of narcotics from the residence, but don't have a motive or suspect.

Posted on Feb 15, 2006

Someone hacked into Office Max's network this past Fall here in Sacramento, and the feds want you to be aware that security breach thieves have the debit card numbers and secret codes of as many as 200,000 Office Max customers. Don't be surprised if your major bank cancels your debit cards and issues you a new one. In this instance you know who the company who was that was compromised, but know that the bank can be informed of a breach and doesn't have to tell you who the company is. It's happened to me, and I was sort of upset that when I asked the bank who it was that I had done business with (that had my information compromised), and was told they couldn't tell me. When a company's database including my debit card info is suspect of being stolen, I think I should have the right to know who it is. Start complaining to your bank now. Posted on Feb 15, 2006

WHY THE PRESS IS ALWAYS ACCUSED OF BEING LIBERALLY MANIPULATED

Pay attention to your news media today. The headline on this story will read: A federal judge has said California must change its methods for execution by lethal injection. The story is really, federal judge Jeremy Fogel refuses to block the execution of Michael Morales next tuesday. The press took one part of the judges finding (a statement saying prison officials must have a trained anesthesiologist in the death chamber), and turned the headline into California must change it's lethal injection methods. And THAT, babiers, is why the press is always accused of being liberally manipulated. c'mon Tuesday! Posted on Feb 15, 2006

Pay attention to your news media today. The headline on this story will read: A federal judge has said California must change its methods for execution by lethal injection. The story is really, federal judge Jeremy Fogel refuses to block the execution of Michael Morales next tuesday. The press took one part of the judges finding (a statement saying prison officials must have a trained anesthesiologist in the death chamber), and turned the headline into California must change it's lethal injection methods. And THAT, babiers, is why the press is always accused of being liberally manipulated. c'mon Tuesday!

Posted on Feb 15, 2006